

Camden N. Massingill,

ASSOCIATE

Camden Navarro Massingill is an associate at Wyche, P.A. Her practice includes counseling and assisting clients on day-to-day labor and employment-related matters, and further includes all facets of workplace-related litigation defense in federal and state courts including cases involving wage and hour laws, Title VII, ADA, FMLA, and other anti-discrimination laws and employment-related torts. In addition to workplace-related litigation, Camden's broader practice regularly involves assisting clients with their other general litigation needs.

As a lifelong Greenville native, Camden enjoys representing those businesses and individuals who have developed South Carolina into what it has become today. As such, her employment practice gives her the opportunity to contribute in a meaningful way to the growth and wellbeing of the region she calls home. She has dedicated her practice to assisting and advising employers in their employment needs as they continue to expand and flourish.

Camden graduated summa cum laude from Vanderbilt University and received her Juris Doctor from George Washington Law School.

Prior to joining Wyche, Camden was an Associate in the Greenville office of an international labor and employment law firm and served as a judicial intern to the Honorable Aphrodite Konduros of the South Carolina Court of Appeals.

Camden is devoted to understanding her clients and their businesses. She earns the confidence of her colleagues and peers through attention to detail, superior work product, and prompt communication.
